2. Anna Weibrecht and her sister Magdalena were orphaned at an early age, and were raised by their uncle and guardian Michael Weibrecht/Waybright, who lived in York (later Adams) County, PA. Michael was married to Anna Weidler, sister of Jacob Weidler. Ultimately when Anna and Magdalena married the Weidler brothers Jacob and Michael, Anna (Weidler) Weibrecht, besides being their aunt by marriage, also became their sister-in-law.

NOTES

1. Besides his baptismal record in Ottenbach, Zurich, there are dozens of references to Hans Weidler in the Reformed Church Books of Kirchartt. With only one exception his name is given simply as Hans Weidler. In an entry of 18 May 1705 in the Kirchartt Church Book at a baptism in which his son Hans Jacob Weidler acted as sponsor, Hans [Sr] is referred to as Hans Georg Weidler. There can be no mistake about this being Hans, the father of Michael, because of the accompanying description. He is noted as being the father of Hans Jacob Weidler, and as being Anwaldt, a position which Michael's father held at that time. The conclusions are either that Hans bore the additional name of Georg or that in this instance the pastor made an error.
2. Anwaldt is difficult to translate. The anwaldt was the agent or representative in the local community assigned to look after the interests of the overlord or in some instances a group of landlords. For a description of the social and political structure of a German village similar to Kirchartt at the time Michael's parents lived there, see: Annette K. Burgert, Eighteenth Century Emigrants from German-Speaking Lands to North America, vol. 1: The Northern Kraichgau (Breinigsville, PA: Pennsylvania German Society, 1983), pp. 13-17.
3. Hans Weidler's second wife, Dorothea (?) Kappler, was the widowed mother of Hans' son-in-law, Martin Kappler. Martin Kappler was the husband of Susanna Weidler, the fifth child on the previous page.
4. Hans Jacob Wohlgemuth, father of Anna Barbara, was a Mennonite. In 1679, after the deaths of Hans Jacob and his wife Margretha, the Wohlgemuth children, one son and three daughters, were baptized in the Reformed Church of Kirchartt.

NOTES

1. No baptismal record for Rudolph Weidler was found, although Heinz Schuchmann in Schweizer Einwanderer im kurpfalzischen Streubesitz des Kraichgaues 1650-1750 states that Rudolph was the son of Jacob Weidler. The sponsor at the birth of Hans (child #3 on the previous page) was Hans Rudi Gutt, so the child's name may well have been Rudolph. According to the Kirchartd church book, Rudolph Weidler is spoken of as being deceased in the account of his son Heinrich's confirmation, 6 September 1699.
